Casino plan draws anger

Clermont Harbor residents wonder where opposing statements went

A lack of information forced Hancock County Supervisors to put off a decision on an appeal hearing on Thursday. South Beach Casino and Resort LLC was appealing a decision made earlier by the Planning and Zoning Board to deny a request to rezone an area of Beach Blvd. from C-1 neighborhood commercial to a Casino Special Use District. Unfortunately, pertinent information from a public hearing on the matter was missing from the record of Stennis Airport breaks ground for control tower

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Stennis International Airport on Friday marked the beginning of the last major improvement it needs to become a major player in the air cargo business and other major air operations - the construction on a new Air Traffic Control Tower.

The tower is being funded through a special $2 million Congressional appropriation. It will be located south of the existing Terminal and hangars.

When completed later this year, the facility will have seven levels that include a tower manager's office, electronic equipment room, training area, break room and the tower "cab," the operational area atop the facility. The tower height will exceed 75 feet.

"The addition of this tower to our already-in-place Instrument Landing System makes us an all-weather airport capable of handling military and civilian flights utilizing "big iron" airplanes like the Air Force's C-5 and Russia's Antonov," said Bill Cotter, Airport Manager. He added, "We are already shipping Armored Security Vehicles from Stennis Airport directly to Iraq, and these missions and others will be made safer by the addition of the new tower."

It is anticipated that a control tower contractor will operate the tower on behalf of the County and the Port and Harbor Commission under an agreement with the Federal Aviation Administration's Contract Tower Program.

Garver Engineers of Little Rock, Arkansas, was selected to complete the design, engineering, and construction management of the tower, and GM&R Construction of Bay St. Louis, was awarded the contract to construct the facility.

Air traffic at Stennis International continues to grow in both operational numbers and complexity. Military aircraft operations to support Kessler Air Force Base, the Navy's Special Boat Team 22 headquartered at the Stennis Space Center, and the Coast Guard's Mobile operations have grown steadily over the past years. A mix of air cargo and business aircraft transporting materials and personnel to and from the Stennis Space Center is increasing, and commercial air cargo operators restricted to using only airports with controlled airspace will now - with the addition of the new tower - be able to operate at Stennis International Airport.

Bay man charged for Ecstasy possession

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Bay St. Louis resident was arrested on March 15, and charged with possession of a controlled substance, (MDMA, Ecstasy), according to Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force directors Waveland Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay Chief Frank McNeil.

"Michael Joseph Giardino, 22, St. Charles St., Bay St. Louis was charged with possession of a controlled substance, (MDMA, Ecstasy). Giardino was walking along the streets at 4 a.m. and observed by Bay Police Officer Patrick Barber appearing to be impaired and was questioned," the police chiefs news release said.

"Giardino was taken into custody for public drunk. He informed Officer Barber that he was on probation through the Mississippi Department of Corrections. Officers then discovered one dosage unit of Ecstasy in Giardino's possession when he was booked into the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility."

Giardino was charged with possession of a controlled substance, (MDMA Ecstasy), and a hold was placed on him for a probation violation, as he was on probation for burglary, the report stated.

Agent Jim Martin is handling the investigation. Any tips, or complaints concerning illegal narcotics, please contact the Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force at 467-5863.

Cuevas' Quotes

Hail to the Champs!

On Friday a tremendous step was made by the Hancock County Port & Harbor Commission with the groundbreaking ceremonies for an Air Traffic Control Tower at the Stennis International Airport.

This has been a long awaited addition to the airport located in Hancock County of Highway 603 between Interstate 10 and the Jordan River.

Stennis Airport and continued to grow in recent years with new additions and for sure the Air Traffic Control Tower is a very important addition.

The airport which is capable of handling air planes of the largest size flying, and is a very important asset to our community.

Our Port & Harbor Commissioners and staff need to really be commended on their efforts.

It was sure good to see former Commissioner President for many, many years, David McDonald in smiles and participating in the groundbreaking ceremonies.

Big things have come to Stennis Airport and Airpark and greater things are still to come.

Hail to the champs! Bay High's Lady Tigers brought home the State Basketball Title in Class 4A for 2005.

It is interesting too, that in the final game, the Lady Tigers scored 53 points and in that scoring there was only one two-point basket the entire game.

The Lady Tigers

scored on the 'long ball' as they say in baseball, the three-pointer, a dozen of them plus 15 points from the free line.

In all probability it has happened before in a basketball game, but I have been in a lot of conversations since the Lady Tigers big win, and no one ever remembered a team winning a game with only one two-point shot.

Bay High's Coach Debbie Triplett's Lady Tigers took the championship trophy back the second time in three years, which is tremendous. An they even reached the title game the year before their first state title and the year between the two top titles.

All five of the Lady Tigers who played the entire game need to be congratulated. And, let's not forget other team members who have contributed along the way this season too. Of the champs five starters, only one will be back next year and that is Tamara Reed, a sophomore, who nailed 7 seven three-pointers for 21 points in the title game.

I am sure that Bay High's Lady Tigers will be back again next year 'in the hunt' for the title once again.

Kendra Reed, Tamara's older sister is headed to the University of Southern Mississippi, coached by none other than Joye Lee-McNelis, one of the great high school lady basketball players to play the halls

Considering the whole package

With gasoline once again at $2 and higher per gallon, and some fill-ups pushing $50, we know we need a national energy policy.

The question is: What provisions will comprise this policy? Some people see it as an either/or proposition either more energy exploration or more emphasis on efficiency and new fuels. In fact, we must have the whole package - an energy policy promoting more domestic production of traditional fuels, better efficiency and new alternative energy.

The Problem: With an almost religious zeal, environmental special interests oppose further development of gasoline, diesel, coal, nuclear power or any type of existing energy source, particularly in America. It's hurting America's people. Each time we've failed to act, energy prices have soared to record levels. If we don't act soon, this year will be no exception. The national average is already $2.15 per gallon, and the peak driving seasons of spring and summer remain before us. Gasoline is up 26 cents from last year's average. Are we going to wait another year until the average hits $2.50 or $3 per gallon? If we do, our economy will start to falter, and many jobs will be lost.

The Choices: America has just three basic options. First, we can beg nations like Saudi Arabia and Venezuela to increase their production. Begging either of these two nations for anything erodes our national security. Many of our terrorist enemies hail from Saudi Arabia, despite its government's stated opposition to terrorism. We can't ignore that. In our own hemisphere, Venezuela's president has voiced support for Iran's obtaining nuclear weapons. Yet, some liberal Senators are advocating that we lobby these two nations for more oil as a short-term solution. That's unacceptable and unimaginative.

Second, we can try to conserve our way out of this problem. It sounds great, but we've already tried that. Remember the 1970s - the Good Ole Boy System vs. Lives of Vulnerable Adults?

Monday, March 14, Chancery Court, Biloxi, Judge Sandy Steckler made an order in the conservatorship of O'Leta and Jerry M. Calhoun, the grandmother and uncle of Hancock County Sheriff Stave Garber, who had been removed from their home in Waveland because of neglect in January 2005. He appointed Cheryl Calhoun Ladner, wife of Jimmy Ladner, Hancock County Tax Assessor, and Ann Jackson as co-conservators.

In January 2003, it was Sandy Steckler who appointed Sue Calhoun and Cheryl Calhoun Ladner as co-conservators to the Calhouns. You might recall that Sue Calhoun was arrested February 1, 2005 for, felony theft and exploitation of vulnerable adults (Reported 2/3/05). She was not arrested for neglect. Additionally, one will have great difficulty learning why she has not been indicted, or even if she will.

Additionally, in December 2003, Lifeline Homecare reported the dangerous conditions in the home to Sue Calhoun and to Kay Altese of DHS in Hancock County. DHS has had an open file on the Calhouns for a minimum of eight years.

Hasn't the Mississippi Gulf Coast allowed enough Vulnerable Adults to be victimized? They continue to victimize them by the system, covering their wrong doing. How many others are out there that we do not know about? How many are dying? Do taxpayers know the toll-free number they are paying for to report these cases is a waste, since the good ole boy system is more interested in covering their misdeeds than in saving lives of the most vulnerable citizens of the state?

I urge you, as tax payers and voters, to put an end to this type of abuse. I must grieve the loss of O'Leta and Jerry Calhoun, since I know it is easier to do so now, rather than to watch what their future will bring. Two officials advised the co-conservators to sell the home that is in the name of Jerry Calhoun. The moment that happens, Mr. Calhoun loses his Medicaid. If you call the Medicaid program they can explain what that means for his future. It is too bleak and painful for me to write about at this time. When will the victimization stop?

Letters to the Editor

Clermont Harbor Residents Don't Want Casino Project

Please, please inform all your readers that is opposed to the casino going in at Clermont Harbor that all our letters opposing it are misplaced, and that we would like the support that we've got from Pass Christian, Long Beach and surrounding areas to rewrite their letters of opposition and get them into the Court House ASAP.

At the last board meeting, several letters were presented in favor of this casino but all the letters objecting this venture were painfully absent. I personally felt that the majority of citizens were not being represented, myself being one.

A 70+ acre stretch of land less than a quarter mile away was recently donated to the Nature Conservancy for birds, nature trails and wild life. That action assured us that it will be natural for many years. It fits beautifully in with our quite old time community where fishing, crabbing, bicycle riding and watching sunsets is a way of life.

Please help with your quick note to the Board of Supervisors.

Sincerely,
Ina Day

Citizens can make a difference in curbing government secrecy

BY JEANNI ATKINS
Secrecy in government is fundamentally anti-democratic," U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas said, "perpetuating bureaucratic errors."

If so, then we're living in a very undemocratic time in history since reports and records audits conducted by open government groups reveal secrecy is common practice from the federal to the local level.

"Democracies die behind closed doors. A government operating in the shadow of secrecy stands in complete opposition to the society envisioned by the framers of the Constitution."

U.S. District Court of Appeals Judge Damon Keith made this statement in ruling that blanket closure of immigration hearings violate the Constitution.

"A true democracy is one that operates on faith—faith that government officials are forthcoming and honest, and faith that informed citizens will arrive at logical conclusions," Keith added. "This is a vital reciprocity that Americans should not discard in these troubling times."

And troubling times they are that do not bode well for our democracy and the principle that the people have a right to know whether their public servants are being good stewards of the hard-earned money they entrust into their care to ensure quality education for their children, affordable health care and safe nursing homes for their elderly parents, clean air and water and a job at a decent wage.

Our right to know needs careful and constant tending and vigilance that cannot let up since slow erosion of our rights as citizens occurs over time when we're not paying attention. As rain-soaked earth finally crumbles under the weight of water-soaked soil, our rights to open and accountable government can crumble like a house of cards under the weight of the habit of excluding the public from the policy-making process and the refusal to allow inspection of public records.

It's easy to do. Overuse executive sessions where the public is barred. Don't specify exactly what you're going to talk about in these sessions. Just use vague terms like "personnel" and "litigation."

Hammer out policy before holding a public meeting in groups of less than a quorum so votes can be taken without explanation and agendas speedily dispensed with without pesky citizen input. Claim that the record sought is not public or ignore the request.

There's something in the human spirit that cries out for secrecy. Maybe it's reluctance to have any mistakes disclosed or differences of opinion aired. Maybe there is a fear that the public might rise up like an angry beast if they really knew the whole truth about what goes on behind closed doors. Then the beast could become savage, and public opinion could turn against you.

Maybe some people do not fully understand how vital open government is to the democratic society and how essential it is that we have a free flow of information.

But there clearly are concerned citizens all around the state who believe that they have a stake in the decisions made by their local and state government and are willing to become active volunteers and provide input into the decision-making process.

Sometimes it only takes one citizen assuming leadership and pretty soon like-minded citizens band together to form the kind of clout that can get the attention of those in government. It's happened in Ocean Springs and Oxford and in other small and large towns.

A focal point for the formation of a citizen pressure group to keep government accountable might be to stem the tide of economic development when it poses a threat to the quality of life in their community. Or the catalyst might be closed committee meetings and decisions made without allowing the public to be present. Or it could be concern about mismanagement of funds by the city.

If you're disgruntled about your local or state government, chances are there are like-minded individuals out there just chomping at the bit to join forces with you and make a difference. But somebody has to take that first step.

Keep the faith in public officials as honest and forthcoming and faith that informed citizens will arrive at logical conclusions, but know your rights under the Open Meetings Act and Public Records Act.

Insist on your right to know about what goes on in meetings where public business is discussed and your right of access to public records but keep in mind that public officials sometimes need reminding that open government is the law of the state.

Urge candidates for government to sign a pledge to conduct the public's business in an open and public manner.

"Publicity is justly commended as a remedy for social and industrial diseases," U.S. Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis observed. "Sunlight is said to be the best of disinfectants, electric light the most efficient policeman."

It's one of those truisms that has stood the test of time. It was true then. It's true now.

Let the sunshine in not just during Sunshine Week but all during the year. Carpe Diem—seize the day!

BWYC wins national championships in sailing

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Bay-Waveland Yacht Club sailors displayed their nationally known sailing prowess during the 2004 racing season by winning two United States national championships, one North American championship, three Gulf Yachting Association championships, a national association championship and district championship, and a Mississippi coast championship. Zak Fanberg with crew Kippy Chamberlain and David Blouin won the prestigious US Men's Sailing Championship for the Mallory Cup for the second consecutive year. Anne Edwards won the Women's Sunfish North American Championship after finishing second the two previous years. Melissa Chapoton finished third. Marc Eagan with his brother Bubby Eagan, and crew, won the US Offshore Championship for another prestigious award, the Lloyd Phoenix trophy.

Marc and his son Marcus Eagan won the Flying Scot Sailing Association Midwinter Regatta, racing against national competition. Andrew Eagan, another son of Marc Eagan, won the Flying Scot Sailing Association Gulf District Championship that was hosted by Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

The cream of the Bay-Waveland sailors won the coveted Sir Thomas J.

Lipton Cup for the Championship of the Gulf Yachting Association by beating the best sailors from the other thirty-one clubs in the association in an annual four-race regatta.

Skippers Bishop Stieffel, Zak Fanberg, Andrew Eagan and Jackson Benvenuti, with their crews, scored two first-place finishes, a second place and a tactical third-place finish, far outscoring their competition. Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will host this prestigious event over Labor Day weekend this year.

BWYC was awarded the hotly contested Gulf Yachting Association Capdevielle Championship for besting the sailors of the other GYA member clubs in a season long competition of fourteen regattas.

The Bay sailors dominated by winning nine of the regattas. The team of Judy Reeves, Harry Chapman, Walter Chamberlain and Paul Keith won the Gulf Yachting Association Fish

Class Championship for BWYC. This is the second time in three years that the Bay sailors have won this championship.

The BWYC sailors also won the annual Mississippi Coast Yachting Association's Chapman Regatta. The membership of the M.C.Y.A. is made up of the seven yacht clubs located on the Mississippi coast. In this regatta each club may enter as many as three boats in each of the four races.

Wildcats extend win streak to 17 games, with win over Lakers

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Nationally-ranked Pearl River extended its winning streak to 17 games Thursday, sweeping Longview CC 5-3, 11-1 in NJCAA baseball double-header action to improve to 22-4.

The defending MACJC champ Wildcats, whose last defeat came on March 5 with a 4-2 loss to Northeast Oklahoma A&M in the Bossier Parish (La.) Tournament, saw the visiting Lakers (4-12) from Kansas City, Kan., take it to the wire in the opening game of the twin bill.

Down by two runs with two outs, Longview loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh only to see Wildcat second baseman-reliever Richard Imhoff enter the game to strike out Gabe Hensley to secure the victory.

Pearl River scored all of its runs in the first two frames off an RBI double by John Wayne Donahue in the bottom of the first and a two-RBI single by Imhoff and a two-run homer by Bailey Hartel in the second frame to go up 5-0.

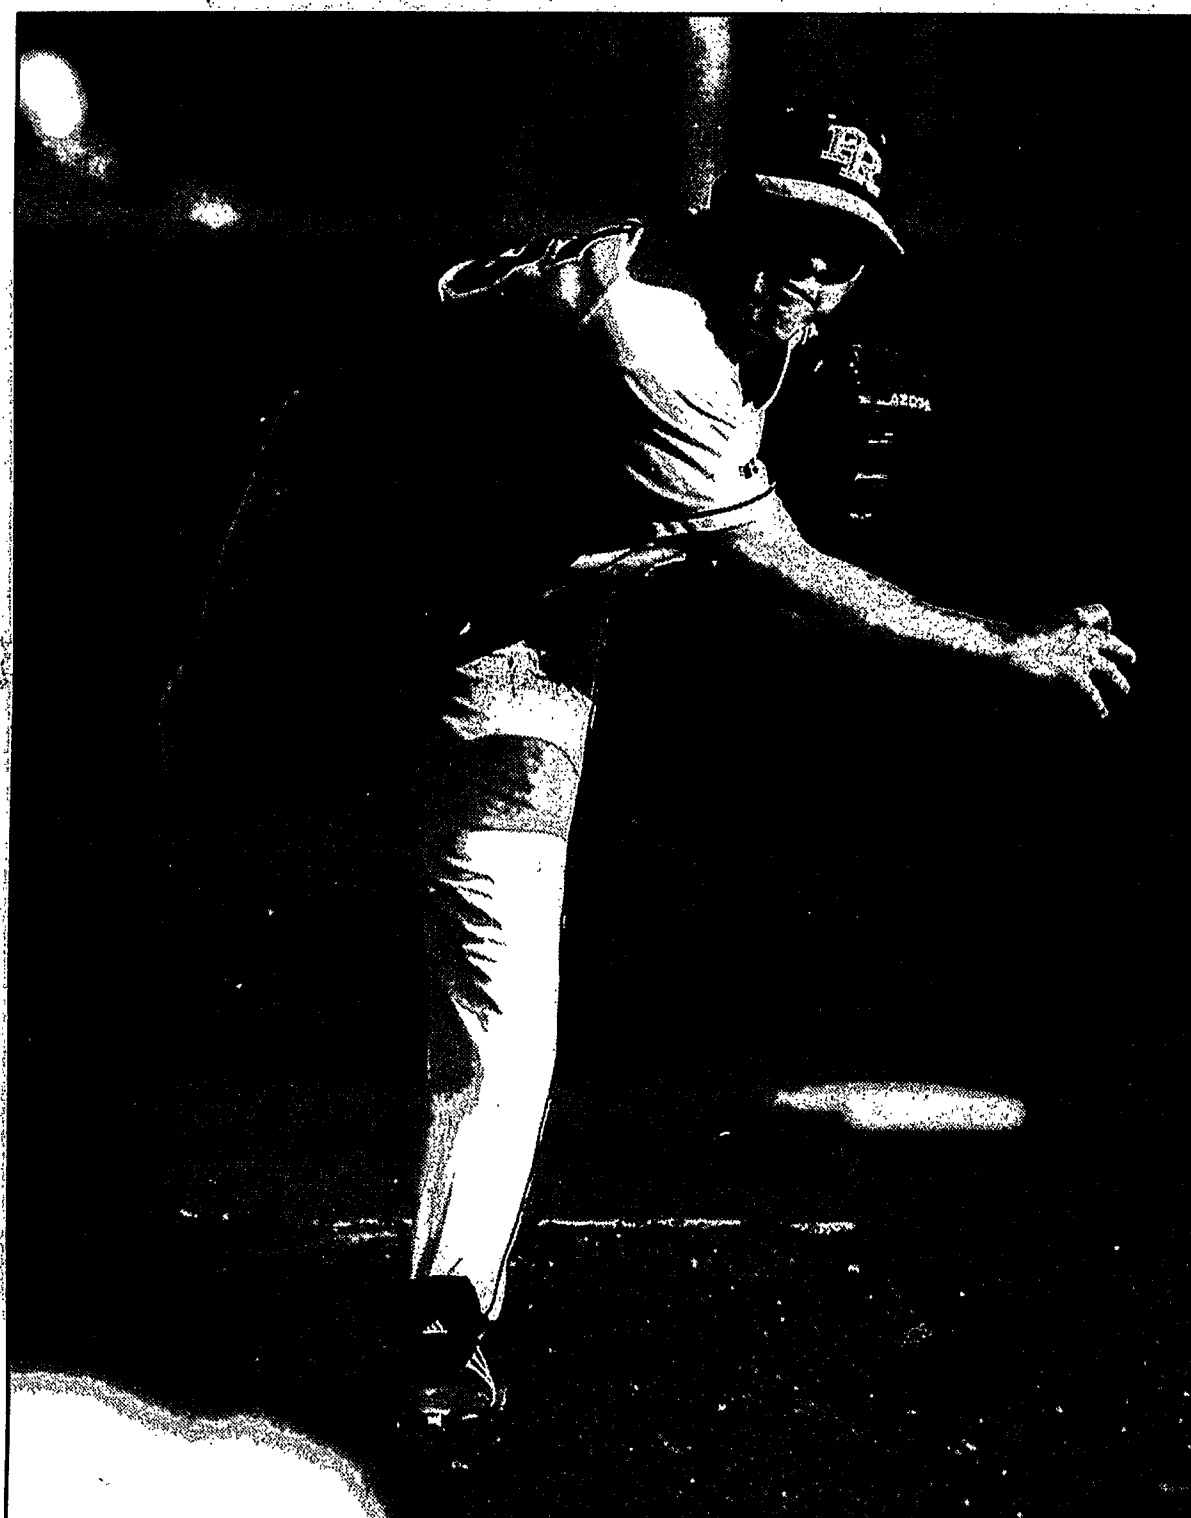

Over the next three innings, the Wildcats managed only two base runners; while the Lakers cut their lead to 5-3 in the sixth.

In the top of the fifth, Jared Modlin blooped a single into rightfield to set the stage for designated hitter Josh McKee's two-run homer over the left center-field wall; then PRCC starter Craig Rodriguez, a lefthander who is headed to Ole Miss, gave up back-to-back singles in the top of the sixth before belting Hensley with a pitch to set the stage for Steven Mashburn's sacrifice to make it 5-3.

Pearl River left runners at first and second in the bottom of the frame; then Donahue relieved Rodriguez to open the seventh. He loaded the bases off a fielder's choice and back-to-back singles before Imhoff entered for his clutch effort.

Rodriguez (3-0) picked up the win in his six innings on the mound, striking out six, walking one, and hitting one batter; while Donahue and Imhoff relieved in the seventh.

Laker starter Nathan Jordan (0-1) was the loser in Pearl River starter Corey Bass hurled a one-hitter to propel the defending MACJC state champ Wildcats to their 19th straight victory with an 8-0 shutout over Kishwaukee in the nightcap of a baseball doubleheader Friday in Poplarville. Bass (4-1) struck out six in the game. PRCC defeated the Kougars out of Malta, Ill., 13-3 in the first game of the twin bill. his three innings, striking out two and walking one; while Bill Amidei relieved in the fourth and Andrew Kelne in the sixth.

Longview finished with eight hits, led by Javier Cicilio's three singles; while Taylor House had two doubles and Modlin, McKee, and Greg Liebenberg all singled.

Hartel paced PRCC's six-hit effort with a homer and a single, while Donahue doubled and singled. Imhoff, Ryne Lovdahl, and Grant Hogue all singled.

The Wildcats played error-free, while the Lakers committed three miscues.

In the nightcap, things were scoreless for the first two-and-a-half innings before Pearl River blew it open in the bottom of the third with four runs. The Wildcats added a pair of scores in the fourth before Longview scored its only run of the game in the top of the fifth to make it 6-1. PRCC bounced back with four more in the bottom of the frame, then added a solo run in the bottom of the sixth to ice the victory via the 10-run rule.

Josh Troxclair (3-1) hurled a two-hitter in picking up the win, striking out five and walking two; while Tyler Redding (NA) picked up the loss in relief of Laker starter Jayson Mahy in the third. Cole Jones relieved in the fourth and Osmar Cheviato in the sixth.

Cicilio and Brandon Willis singled to Longview, while Donahue and J.P. Moreaux doubled and singled to pace PRCC's 14-hit effort. Lovdahl had two singles, Imhoff a homer, Hartel and Dustin Thibodeaux both doubled, and Hogue, Jordan Rogers, Keith Winstead, and Mark Griffin all singled.

Bay, Pass & SSC all score wins on the baseball diamond

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Inclement weather passed through the area on Tuesday evening and put a damper on some of the high school diamonds along the Gulf Coast. However, over last weekend, Bay High picked up two wins while Pass Christian and St. Stanislaus each tallied a win.

On Saturday, March 12th, Bay High (5-6, 3-0) picked up wins over Hancock and Pearl River Central. Trevor Adam got both wins on the mound on Saturday as the Tigers defeated Hancock 1-0 and Pearl River Central 3-2. In the PRC game, Zach Thompson collected multiple hits.

On Friday evening, Pass Christian (5-6, 1-2) defeated Hancock 7-6 behind Ryan Davis' 10 K's and Derrick Palmer's three-hit night including a dinger.

Jaren Bowser had two hits in the game for Pass Christian, as well.

Mykial Mitchell and the Chance Whitfield had multiple hits for the Hawks at the plate. St. Stanislaus (7-5, 3-0) bounced back from their loss to Bay High on Friday night to claim a 10-3 win over Long Beach.

Tyler Henry got the win on the mound for SSC with 9 K's. SSC got four runs in both the first and third inning to close the lid on the Bearcats. The Rocks banged out 13 hits with three coming from Chase Kleinpeter and two each from Dylan Drake, Stephen Keel and Lance Cuevas.

Lott -- the whole package

55 mph speed limit, President Jimmy Carter asking Americans to turn their heaters down, the solar energy hype? We couldn't conserve our way out of an energy deficit then, and we sure can't do it in the midst of an energy-hungry electronic information age now. Setting arbitrary, government-mandated standards for fuel and power consumption has been tried before. Conservation is good but not by itself. It's a one-dimensional approach to a multi-dimensional problem.

The Solution: The final choice is a comprehensive package of simultaneous strategies. It starts when, for the first time in American history, we enact a comprehensive national energy policy, one that balances domestic production, promotes conservation and provides incentives for developing technologies like fuel cells, hybrid automobiles and the like.

I believe a good energy policy should make it easier to construct new refineries like the one near my house in Pascagoula. I also think a good energy policy should include incentives for nuclear power production, the cleanest of all power.

The solution is before us: an energy policy which uses all strategies at once. The challenge is overcoming the special interests on both sides so that an energy policy can be enacted. We can't keep letting a few folks opposed to more drilling in the Gulf of Mexico or Alaska, for instance, hold hostage any more energy proposals. Why should they? Folks in the areas affected by domestic drilling support it.

Eventually, Americans will get fed up with rising energy costs. When we do, we won't get rid of our cars or start reading by candlelight. Instead, Americans will demand that their government enact America's first national energy policy, not to promote new drilling, more conservation and alternative energy research, but to do all these things together, at once - the whole package.

he in turn notified Roan. Roan said, "I intervened in the investigation, because it was a possible child abuse case. In interviewing the child's father and Emergency Room doctors at the local hospital, it was determined the baby had been burned, bitten and had several other abrasions on her body."

It was determined also that the young girl had just been picked up by her father and the child had allegedly been in her mother's custody when the injuries occurred, Roan stated.

Later the child was released to her father, who transported her to Children's Hospital in New Orleans, where she was reported to be in a stable condition, the investigators said.

Roan said a doctor told him the youngster had third degree burns. The Mississippi Department of Human Services were notified by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department about the child.

Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt, Friday morning said, "We are not going to tolerate child abuse, period. Our department will prosecute all cases to the fullest extent of the law. This type of child abuse has to stop."

 To Mother

Dear Mom, it's been two long years since you've gone away. Few moments pass without you; you're thought of every day. Your life was love and all about giving. Your famous quote was "Give me my flowers, while I am living." But if there were one more gift I could give, it would be time. Time to be with us, to hear your stories, your lengthy chatter on the phone... These things would settle our minds. Forgive us for being selfish, because we love you so much. You're in our prayers and dreams. We love you Mom, please stay in touch. Lovingly, Joyce, Debra, Roxanne, Hillard, Jimmy Lee, Charles, David and your 2 sisters Minnie & Andolina

Governor's Cup Award to recognize top businesses

Nominations are now being accepted for the 2005 Governor's Cup Awards. Sponsored by Governor Haley Barbour and the Mississippi Development Authority (MDA) in partnership with the Mississippi Economic Development Council (MEDC), the awards are designed to recognize outstanding businesses from across the state and raise general awareness about their impact in the local business community.

The awards will recognize 16 outstanding businesses in 8 regions across the state. One small business and one large business will also be selected as outstanding businesses of the year and will be honored at the annual Mississippi Economic Development Council's awards banquet scheduled for July 14, 2005 during the MEDC Summer Conference. The award, one of the highest honors presented by the Governor, recognizes private sector businesses that have had significant impact within their local community during calendar year 2004.

"Business and industry are the driving forces of our economy and we must continue to support and promote exceptional business leadership in Mississippi," said Governor Barbour. "The Governor's Cup Awards are designed to recognize those entities that have demonstrated an outstanding willingness and ability to positively influence the communities around them and to work with those communities to create tangible change."

The Governor's Cup Awards have a special significance because the winners are nominated and selected by local economic development organizations. These are the people who work at the grassroots level to secure and retain business and industry in our state," said Leland Speed, executive director of the Mississippi Development Authority. "Recognition at this level demonstrates the real meaning and impact of good corporate citizenship on Mississippi communities."

The Governor's Cup awards will be given in two categories: a) Small Business - firms with 50 employees or less; b) Large Business - firms with 51 or more employees. One winner in each category will be recognized in each of the eight districts. From these 16 District Winners, 2 Statewide Winners will be chosen, one from each category. The program follows the district lines of the Mississippi Development Authority and the Mississippi Economic Development Council.

Nominations may be submitted by economic development organizations or by chambers of commerce. The local nominating entity of each of the district winners will receive a $1,000 Planning Grant to support their existing industry and business programs. The local nominating entity for each statewide will receive a $15,000 Planning Grant for their existing industry and business program.

For additional information about the Governor's Cup Awards or the nomination process, please contact MDA's Existing Industry and Business Division at 601-359-3593.

Teachers' career fair set in Jackson

The Mississippi Career Fair for Educators will be held Saturday, April 2, 2005 at the Mississippi Trade Mart in Jackson. The fair will begin at 9 a.m. and conclude at 2 p.m. Certified teachers, recent college graduates and anyone interested in a career in education are invited to attend.

The Career Fair for Educators benefits so many people," said Wesley Williams, director of the Mississippi Teacher Center. "The prospective teacher has the opportunity to consult with school districts from all over the state in one setting."

Many of the 152 school districts in the state will have booths at the fair to provide information on opportunities for teachers in their district.

"The school districts will have access to certified teachers and education graduates early to help them fill vacancies for the upcoming academic school year," said Williams.

The Office of Educator Licensure will issue licenses onsite at the Mississippi Career Fair for Educators to the prospective educators with proper documentation as required in the Licensure Application Packet, which can be downloaded from the Mississippi Department of Education website at www.mde.k12.ms.us/ed_licensure.

In addition, an information session on alternate route certification will be held as part of the fair for non-certified individuals with an undergraduate degree.

"Non-certified individuals with an undergraduate degree and a desire to teach can learn the step-by-step process to acquire teacher certification through three Alternate Route Programs," said Williams.

The fair is sponsored by the Mississippi Department of Education, Mississippi Teacher Center, Troops to Teachers, and The Transition to Teaching Program. For more information, visit the Mississippi Department of Education's Web site at www.mde.k12.ms.us/mte.

"It's a win-win situation for everyone," said Williams. "Most importantly, the event contributes to our mission in reaching the teachers our students deserve."

Lott receives "Spirit of Enterprise" award

The United States Chamber of Commerce has presented Senator Trent Lott with its "Spirit of Enterprise" award for what the Chamber terms his "strong support for a pro-economic growth legislative agenda" during the second session of the 108th Congress.

"I am very honored to be recognized by the U.S. Chamber," Senator Lott said. "It's been a privilege to work with Mississippi's elected leaders and our state and our nation's business community to promote job growth in my state. Economic growth means new opportunities for Mississippians, and we've seen a significant amount of success in recent years. I'll continue this effort, and I look forward to new opportunities to promote business investment in Mississippi and a healthy business climate nationwide."

The Chamber awards the "Spirit of Enterprise" based on rankings it gives members of Congress for what it considers "key votes" during each session. Score votes for the 108th Congress included decisions on medical liability reform, pension reform and tax relief.

Senator Lott earned a 100 percent score last year, and he has an almost 90 percent cumulative ranking during his tenure in Congress.

The U.S. Chamber represents about 3 million businesses and organizations.

Casino -- opposition

evidence submitted to the board for review.

South Beach is proposing a hotel and casino resort adjoining the Clermont Harbor community at Beach Blvd. and Poinset Ave. The hotel is described as a 14 story, two tower, 200 room structure which will contain, restaurants, salons, spas, clubs, gift shops, boutiques, vaults, and office space as well as rooms.

The complex will also include a multi-floor parking garage north of the hotel and a casino facility across the street in the Mississippi Sound.

Public hearings on the proposal drew a storm of opposition from Clermont Harbor and other local residents. A handful of people also spoke out in favor of the project. At Thursday's appeal hearing none of the public comment, pro or con, was submitted from the building office to the board.

The only thing submitted for the appeal were minutes from a planning and zoning meeting in which the zoning change was denied, and other minutes in which there was a mention of the public hearing and other action, said board attorney Ronnie Artigues. No record of any detailed findings, any record of the transcript of public comment, or tape were submitted, Artigues said.

When supervisors sent building official Mickey Lagasse back to his office to look for the needed information Lagasse returned saying that all the information from the public hearing had been turned over to the court reporter present at the public hearing.

Lagasse told supervisors that he didn't know if he could get a copy of the transcript. Casino project planners had letters of support on hand and submitted them to Supervisors at the hearing. Artigues advised the board to postpone the review until missing documents could be found and made a part of the official record.

District 2 Supervisor Rocky Pullman said that if the records could not be located a new public hearing would be held. If records are found, Pullman said, then the appeal hearing will be re-scheduled.

Kirk Ladner, one of the planners for the project, said that his vision for the future of the area stretching from Clermont Harbor to Bayou Caddy, was one of an entertainment and resort district, complete with hotels and condominium projects. Clermont resident Mike Aertter said he thought the project was the best use for the area.

Clermont resident Ina Day said that she and about 200 other people had submitted letters of opposition to the project to the Board of Supervisors office in conjunction with the hearing. Day said she assumed that submitting them to the office would put them in Supervisors' hands, so no copies were brought to the hearing, she said.

"How would it be if you replaced the Lilly of the Valley (in old town Bay St. Louis) or other small businesses with this type of a project," Day said. "How would the ambience down here be? We are not even a commercial area; we are residential."

Seventy acres were just donated to the Nature Conservatory just blocks from the proposed hotel/casino site, Day said, with the area to be used as a bird sanctuary and nature area. How can this work with this type of project, she asked.

in Shoreline Park had been turned down by planning commissioners.

The county now has ordinances regulating sexually oriented businesses and zoning which allows the businesses in C-2 Highway Commercial areas making the hearing a mute point. Board attorney Ronnie Artigues advised county officials to direct all such businesses who want to operate with the county to comply with the ordinances.

New ordinances include numerous regulations which, among other things, requires any sexually oriented business to be a mandated distance from residences, schools and churches. A ban on the sale and consumption of alcohol in such businesses is also included in the new regulations.

In other business:

- The state driver's license bureau in Hancock County is temporarily closed. Anyone requiring a license will have to drive to the office in Gulfport or Picayune. County Clerk Tim Kellar said that Supervisors are working to try to have the office reopened as soon as possible. Lack of funds is the reason given for the closure, Kellar said.

- Supervisors accepted the resignation of Lynn M. Bailey from the Pearl River Water and Sewer Board. Conflicts with working hours at her job forced the resignation, said Bailey in her letter of resignation.

- Work on the beach renewal project has been slowed because of a lack of sand to pump onto the beach. Contractors are expecting to overcome the problem within days by moving the dredge to a new location, said county engineer.

near Geof Clemens. To complete the five and a half mile project, about 140,000 cubic yards of sand will be needed.

- Supervisors will begin work on a county sign ordinance and regulations to protect live oak trees.

- Supervisors took under advisement a request to abandon George St. in Lakeshore in its entirety. Ethel Poulton requested the abandonment, but many of her neighbors said the move would render their property inaccessible. The matter was taken under advisement.

Therault, SVD, in breaking ground for the new center.

Myladiyl issued a special thank-you to Therault: "You sowed the seed," he told the long-time pastor, "and we are ready to reap the harvest."

The new community center will be built on the grounds of the old Convent of Sisters of the Holy Spirit at 301 South Nacaise Avenue in Bay St. Louis, adjacent to the parish's school.

Myladiyl said the groundbreaking marks the first such event for the parish since construction began on the school back in 1957, under Therault's leadership.

"We at St. Rose have inherited, in many ways, everything that we have from our ancestors ...," Myladiyl said, "and this is our contribution to the next generation."

In honor of the Sisters of the Holy Spirit, he said, the new facility will be dubbed the Holy Spirit Center.

The new construction will incorporate a Prayer Walk located near the entrance to the Center. Two statues that are original to the former convent house grounds will be placed on either side of the walk. The Center is scheduled for completion in December 2005.

The facility will also include a Prayer Walk, which organizers say will "provide an eternal place of prayer and reflection surrounded by lovely gardens and seating areas."

To help finance the construction, the bricks used on the walkway will be engraved with a contributor's name, a family name, or corporate name. Bricks are offered for purchase for $50 each. In addition, there will be large flagstones that will surround and elevate the statuary for $500 each.

For more information, call the church at 467-7347.

A Portrait of Jennie

I woke up last night and, finding myself wide awake, began listening to the sounds of the night. It's an odd thing, but there are many noises around us that we become so accustomed to that we don't really hear them. The house shifts, the air conditioning goes on and then off, the clock ticks in the hall, its chimes go off on the hour with loud bongos. But mostly, the sounds I heard last night were those made by Jennie, our gray German hound.

She was snoring. As I lay there, I realized that, like the motor of an old refrigerator, her snoring was unobtrusive. Like the clock and the air conditioning, it was there and yet not there. I could if I wished have fallen back to sleep without it bothering me. Yet as I lay there, I realized that it was loud. In a way, however, the sound was comforting. Its presence meant to me that Jennie was there and that when I awoke in the morning, she would still be there.

During the day, Jennie follows me around everywhere and at night she usually sleeps at the foot of our bed on her own pad. Every now and then, she wanders a bit during the night, sleeping sometimes on the small rug on Stella's side of the bed and sometimes on mine. When I awoke last night, she was on my side and I remember reaching down and touching her flank, listening to her snore.

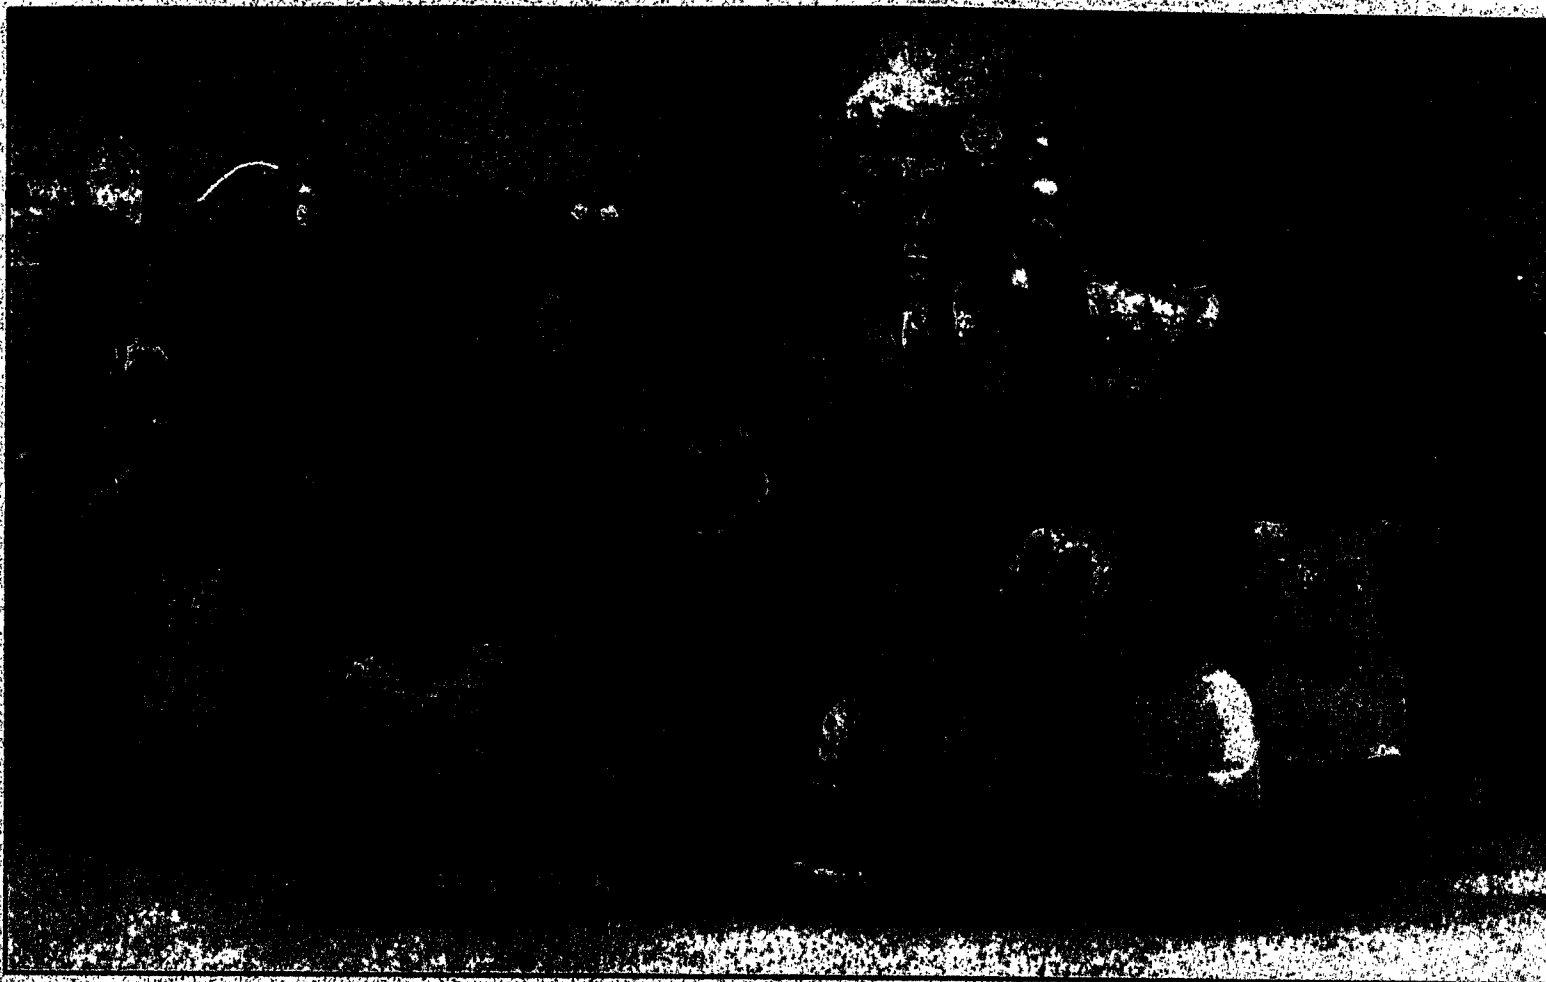

We first started letting Jennie sleep in the bedroom after she had an accident a number of years ago. Before that she slept in the garage on a pad in an old plastic barrel with blankets added for the cold during winter. Then one week she had started chasing pickup trucks passing the house on the side street. Within that week, she was hit by one truck and lay on the street, screaming in pain and terror.

When I picked her up, her front left leg was pointed awkwardly at midpoint to one side. With the help of the pickup driver, I managed to get her in the back of our car and with Stella rushed her to the small emergency animal clinic in Orange Grove.

The clinic was understaffed at the time and I had to hold the sedated Jennie while the vet drilled holes in

Reading Rewards

Prima Plaque, Hancock County Library System Director and grandmother of Bay Catholic student Calro Plaque, was a mystery reader this week at Ruth Rice's PreK four year old class. Each child is responsible for a week of mystery readers with the theme the letters in the child's name. Mrs. Plaque read for the letter "A." Apples carried out the theme, and children received apple pencils and apple ornaments.

Louie St. Louis, Hancock County Library System mascot, celebrated St. Patrick's Day with Hester Plaque at a mystery reader this week at Ruth Rice's PreK four year old class. Plaque and Louie were on hand to read to Ruth Rice's PreK four year old class, of which Plaque's granddaughter, Calro Plaque, is a student. Children were presented green beads, clover stickers and raisins in green boxes.

Connie Heltzmann's Bay Catholic Kindergarten Class visited the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library last week to view their Coast Critters now on display through March 22. Each year Mrs. Heltzmann presents the children with neckties and asks them to get together as a family and make a Coast Critter, along with a story.

Training Cats? It's Easier Than You Think!

I am a dog trainer. I love figuring out why they're doing whatever they're doing (or not!) and the challenge and fun of teaching dogs. But I've always had a variety of other animals, and I never can resist the temptation to attempt training an animal, whatever the species. With patience and a little knowledge about a creature's natural inclinations, virtually any animal can be taught to perform a trained behavior on cue.

Pet Projects by Paula Leoni

So I was intrigued when a friend offered me the opportunity recently to do a training session with her cat. I'd previously worked with her dog, and I knew this was going to be fun! I arrived to an enthusiastic greeting from my former canine pupil, and then I met Annie, perhaps the most beautiful feline I've ever seen. The first task was to introduce Annie to a clicker. This is a small device with a metal tab that makes a distinct click when depressed with a finger. When an animal is oriented to the sound, it becomes a signal, or marker, that a specific behavior has earned the animal a reward. Clickers are great tools for training all types of animals, but especially useful with those in which a leash or other physical guidance is not possible.

Initially, the sound is meaningless, so it's necessary to "charge up" the clicker. With Annie, I simply pressed the clicker and immediately offered her a taste of soft food on a spoon. In just a few repetitions, Annie was looking at the spoon as soon as she heard the click. Smart kitty! Most cats are easily coaxed to raise a forepaw, so teaching Annie to "Wave Hello" seemed like a good first choice. She, however, had other ideas. When I enticed her to raise a paw and bat at a toy, Annie sat up on her hindquarters looking like

PRCC Recruitment Team already on the job

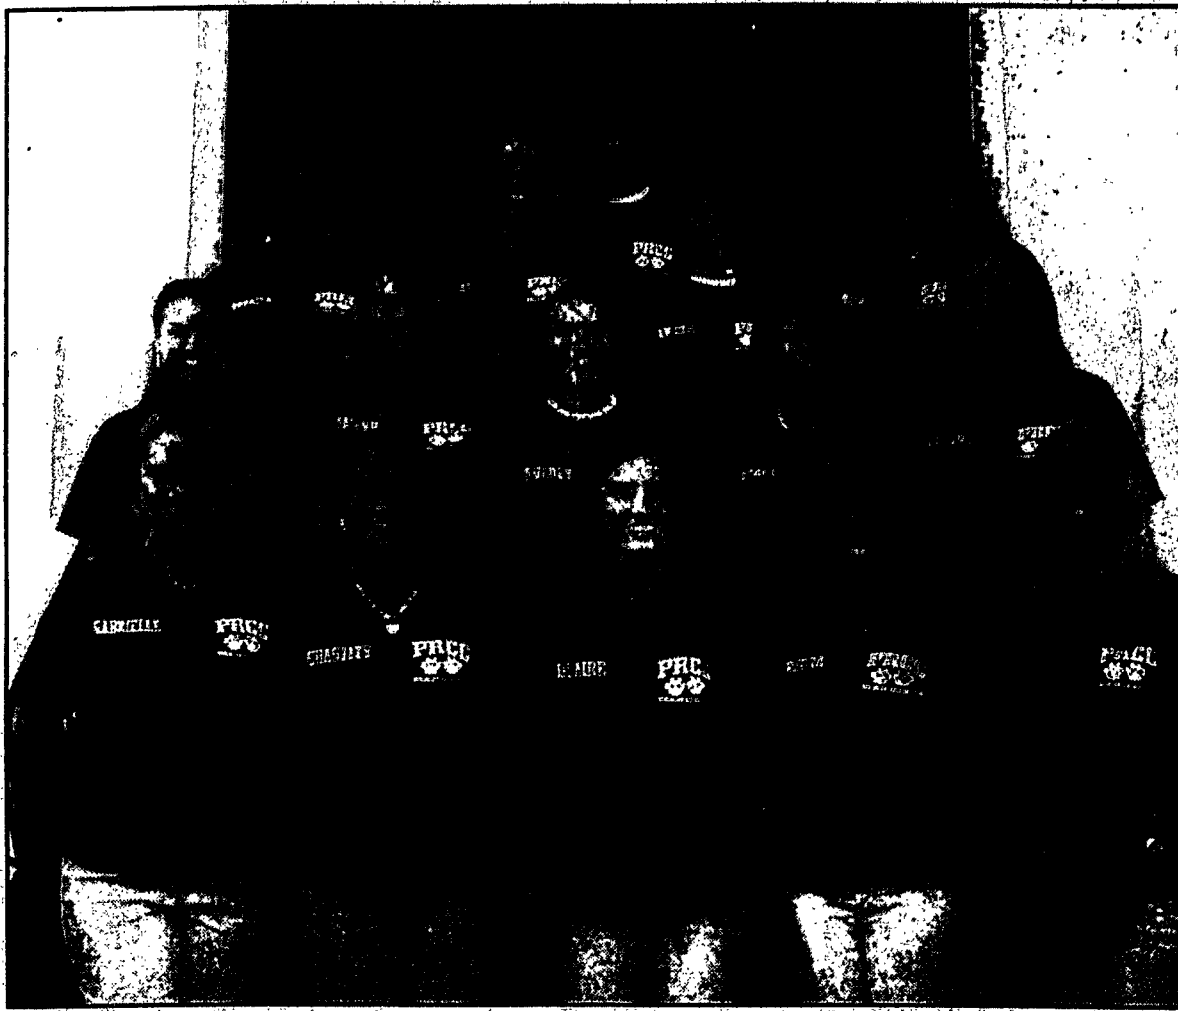

The 2005 Wildcat Recruitment Team, made up of some 17 Pearl River Community College students from throughout the college's six-county district, are already on the job working to recruit students to PRCC.

"The Recruitment Team's basic responsibilities will be to serve PRCC as student recruiters," said Candace Mooney, one of PRCC's full-time recruiters. "They will go on visits with the recruiters and help inform high school students about college life and the opportunities PRCC has to offer each individual as well as help out with functions on campus."

Student recruiters will also visit district high schools with PRCC recruiters.

"We will bring one to two student recruiters to the high schools with us," said Mooney. "We hope that high school students will recognize the student recruiter and feel comfortable talking to them about student life at PRCC. They will help the recruiter hand out materials to students and answer any questions the students may have. The key factor here is to hope that students will be able to relate to our student recruiters and see how great PRCC is."

Each student on the recruitment team serves a one-year term and receives a partial scholarship. They also had to undergo training in various aspects of recruitment. Mooney explains: "Our student recruitment team has met with the PRCC professionals in the business office, financial aid office, admissions, and housing. They are familiar with the applications and process for admittance into all these departments.

"They have also been trained to give tours to students and parents who wish to tour the campuses. They are familiar with the recruitment packet that we give each student who visits our school. This packet includes all forms a student will have to fill out to attend PRCC. Each student recruiter has been trained to help the students fill out these packets and answer any questions they may have."

Besides working schools in the PRCC district, the Recruitment Team will also lend a hand with activities on the main campus. Those include orientation and registration, Spring Fest, the annual Extravaganza fund raiser, as well as provide student tours.

"This group of outstanding students will be an incredible addition to the Office of Recruitment and Orientation as well as the college," said Dr. Barbara Gandy, Director of Recruitment and Orientation. "The students will assist in activities all over the campus and visit high schools in the PRCC district. We have needed additional help with the summer Orientation program and this group will fill the void that we have so desperately needed."

STARs at Hancock High

James Breitner, son of David and Peggy Breitner of Diamondhead, has been named as Hancock High School's Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Student for the 2004-2005 school year. The Mississippi Economic Council's M.B. Swayze Educational Foundation sponsors the STAR Program. STAR students are selected on the basis of academic excellence, American College Test scores, and scholastic averages.

Each STAR student is asked to designate a STAR teacher, the classroom teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement. Breitner designated Keene Golding, Hancock High School Physics Teacher, as the STAR teacher.

Golding has been involved in education for 7 years and has taught such classes as physics, mathematics, aerospace, and astronomy.

Byrd Scholarship program taking applications now

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Mississippi's graduating high school seniors and eligible general education development recipients may participate in the Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship Program.

Now in its 19th year, the federally-funded program is administered in Mississippi by the Mississippi Department of Education.

Named in honor of Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, the scholarship program will award 65 to 75 scholarships worth $1,500 each, which are renewable for up to three additional years of undergraduate study at any post-secondary institution of higher education.

The deadline for applications is March 31.

The selection criteria is designed to ensure that all eligible students receive consideration without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, religion, disability, age, economic background, educational expenses, or financial need. Scholarships are awarded based upon academic merit and the promise of continued excellence in postsecondary education.

A nine-member scholarship selection committee, composed of school board members, administrators, counselors, teachers, and parents, selects Mississippi's "Byrd Scholars." The scholars are selected from each of the state's four congressional districts.

Applications for the Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship Program are available through local school district superintendents, high school principals, headmasters, high school counselors, or the Mississippi Department of Education.

In addition, the application may be downloaded from the Mississippi Department of Education's website at www.mde.k12.ms.us/scholarship/scholdetv.html.

The application and supporting documents must be postmarked by March 31, 2005.

SSC student fences in Junior Olympics

Dylan Lewald, 16, of Diamondhead, MS, and a St. Stanislaus sophomore, returned home from Arlington, TX, after participating in the Junior Olympics for the sport of fencing in February. Lewald started fencing in Homer, Alaska where he lived with his family for the last three years. He brought his passion for the sport to Mississippi and joined the South MS Fencing Club, which meets in Hattiesburg, Ocean Springs, and Gulfport. He travels a lot to get to his practices, but it is worth it.

There are three fencing weapons: the foil, the epee, and the saber. Lewald favors the epee, and although he qualified for both the epee and the saber for the Junior Olympics (J.O.'s), he chose to concentrate his efforts solely on epee.

The USFA (United States Fencing Association) Qualifiers for the Louisiana Division of Fencing last fall brought fencers from places as far as Jackson, Ocean Springs, Hattiesburg and Gulfport, MS and New Orleans and Lafayette LA. To actually qualify for the J.O.'s you must place in the top 3 spots for each weapon you are competing.

Lewald qualified and fenced both in Junior (19 and under, including college team members) and Cadet (17 and under). In both sections pools are set up with the 200 plus qualifiers. Each pool has approximately 6 people and each person fences all the others. Bouts are to 5 points, after the pools, everyone's points are added up and if you are in the top 80% of everyone, you make it to the Direct Elimination bouts (the D.E.'s). Just to make it the D.E. is nerve racking and the tension in the air of the 38-strip convention center can be cut with a knife. Once in the D.E.'s the tension is tenfold. The D.E.'s are 3 minutes or 15 points which ever comes first and there are two, 1 minute breaks. Loose your concentration and the point lost could cost you the bout.

Junior (19 and under) pools went quickly for Lewald as he fenced those ranked above him and with more experience. He held his own though, scoring points on all of his opponents. Two more points and he would have qualified for the Junior D.E.'s. Not bad for the first time to the J.O.'s. As for the Cadets, Lewald smoked in his pools qualifying easily for the D.E.'s. He beat his opponent in his first D.E. bout 15-4. Entering his second D.E. bout he pulled all the tricks out of his bag and scored 4 points against the kid who ended up winning the tournament (ranked 3rd in the nation.).

Dylan is happy with the results, he really wanted to have fun, score points against his opponents, and hopefully get to the D.E.'s. He accomplished this. He even got to fence against his buddies from Alaska. He now has his sights set on Sacramento, CA and the Nationals this summer.

Anyone interested in fencing with Dylan Lewald and the South MS Fencing Club should contact jon-carr@datasync.com or 228-872-3520.

Vackova tapped into Phi Eta Sigma

The Millsaps College academic honorary societies held their biannual Tap Day ceremonies Thursday, Feb. 24 in the Ford Academic Complex on the Millsaps College campus in Jackson. In all, 19 different academic honoraries inducted new members and honored current members. Millsaps College allows students to particiher leg. These were for stainless steel bolts that secured the two steel rods that would keep the leg in traction and provide support while the shattered bones healed.

The trip home was slower. Stella drove and I sat in the back with Jennie. That night, Jennie slept for the first time on the floor in the bedroom. I slept beside her as she came out of the anesthetic. The vet warned me that it would be rough and it was.

When we got Jennie originally it was a trial sort of thing. A friend sent a woman to us with a Weimaraner. The woman was not home enough to adequately take care of the large dog and was looking for someone to adopt it. It was a nice-looking dog, about two years old. We said we would keep her on a trial basis for a week. The woman agreed and left.

The next morning I woke up and turned to Stella in the bed beside me. "What do you think?" She knew right away what I was talking about. "Call the woman," she said, "and tell her we want to give her back her dog."

The problem was that the dog was extremely active. The evening before, the dog had worn us out. And she would be just one of three dogs! We still had Lillie and Heron at that time, two very active Weimaraners. Three dogs would be a lot of dogs. And when one of them is as active as the new dog, that's more than a lot of dogs.

We decided we would keep Jennie (her new name) one more day and see how things worked out. That one more day was extended to another day and that day to another and then another.

Heron and Lillie are both gone and all we have left is Jennie. We are glad we kept her. She really is a wonderful dog, tall, rather handsome, with a tail that's been docked on the long side. When Jennie does act up, we tell her that she had better start behaving because it's getting near the end of the week. For some reason, she never seems to be worried.

She loves to go with me on the beach. When she was younger, she loved the exciting feeling of freedom presented by its open spaces. She would race ahead of me on the sand, moving at tremendous speed in broad, ranging circles, shedding some of the excess of energy that seemingly was always cooped up within her. If I had a Frisbee, she would leap impossible heights to pluck it from the sky. To watch Jennie then was to watch the essence of the joy of life.

Now time is with us and our walks on the beach are more sedate. Jennie still moves about eagerly sniffing and checking the sharp smells of the shoreline, but the full roar of endless circles of shedding energy is gone. A friend asked to take her with him as company on his three-mile walk the other day. He brought her back after less than a mile. She was walking slow and shaking at the hip. Arthritis and age have taken their toll. At thirteen years, she is not the blurred whirlwind of movement she was when, a decade ago, the women left her with us for a one-week trial.

So, last night when I touched her lying beside the bed and listened to her snore, I felt and heard a warm presence of many years of deep love and company. It had felt good and, knowing she was there, I slipped easily back into a sound sleep.

(I wrote this last summer. It seems appropriate to repeat it now. Jeannie died Friday morning, 10 March 2005. She was slightly over 14 years old. She, Stella and I have enjoyed a wonderful life with each other. We will miss her very much.)

Pets -- cat training

an adorable, furry little Buddha! Click and reward! A couple more times, then she fixed me with that cool cat gaze that said "OK, unless you've got something better to offer, I'm bored with this game now."

To continue teaching Annie to perform this cute trick on cue, her owner will need to practice frequently in very short sessions. She will initially have to "lure" Annie into position with a toy, immediately clicking and rewarding. As with all animals, including humans, behaviors that are rewarded are repeated, so Annie will begin to require less physical prompting. A cue word, or command, can be attached, and my friend will have a trained cat!

Here are some tips to help you train your pet, whether it's a cat or a canary!

1. Clickers can be purchased at pet stores for under 3 dollars. Remember to just "click and treat" at first. Some animals only require a few repetitions, others may take several days to make the connection.

2. Use very tiny amounts of a highly desirable food reward. You may need to experiment to find out what works best. I think Annie would have preferred pate to our offerings!

3. Be flexible. Annie offered a different behavior than what I had in mind, but it was terrific so we went with it!

4. Think in terms of things that your pet does naturally, and build on those. Later on, you can refine, or "shape" the behavior by only rewarding those efforts that most closely approximate the desired end result.

MEMA Mitigation Grants

Mississippi Emergency Management Agency Director Robert Latham announced today that more than $300,000 in mitigation grants will be available to Mississippi communities in 2005.

A total of $318,400 of federal grants will be available to Mississippi communities that participate in the National Flood Insurance Program. NFIP communities must submit an application to MEMA by June 30 in order to be considered.

"Our state is one of the top 10 flood loss states in the nation, and we are fortunate to have been provided with this funding which will help eliminate flood loss structures," Latham said. "The well-being of the National Flood Insurance Program is contingent upon us being able to reduce flood risk structures throughout our state."

The grant funding is from the Federal Emergency Management Agency's Flood Mitigation Assistance Program. Grants are to help communities in implementing measures to reduce or eliminate the long-term risk of flood damage to structures insurable through NFIP. A total of 274 Mississippi cities and counties are members of NFIP.

Any home or business owner whose structure is located within a community that participates in NFIP can obtain a flood insurance policy, regardless of the location of the structure.

Flood insurance is available to protect homes, condominiums, apartments and nonresidential buildings.

All grant projects awarded will be eligible to receive 75 percent of the project's cost from the federal grant. The community will provide the remaining 25 percent of the project's cost.

For additional information on applying for the 2005 Flood Mitigation Assistance Program grants, call MEMA's Mitigation Bureau at 601-366-5705 or 601-352-9100.

DON'T BE AFRAID TO MAKE MISTAKES

Occasionally, we may miss out on a unique experience or may not profit by some situation because we are afraid of making mistakes or attempting something that seems too risky, and thus we end up doing nothing. The old cliché, "nothing ventured, nothing gained" applies here, because doing nothing has risks of its own. World-class figure skaters will fall thousands of times before getting the chance to compete in the Olympics, and they will have to choose a demanding and risky program if they hope to bring home the gold medal. While it is possible to be too comfortable with risk, many of us are too averse to it. The right approach in most endeavors is somewhere between the extremes. Ideally, we should attempt things that have a moderate level of difficulty, so that we have a reasonable prospect for success. And then if we succeed, we gain the confidence necessary to attempt more difficult things. In the Bible, when David went out to fight Goliath, the odds were seemingly against him, but his skill with the sling tipped the odds in his favor. Now of course, no one remembers those timid souls who refused to fight the giant Philistine.

... God did not give us a spirit of timidity but a spirit of power and love and self-control.

Tasty by-products of Lent

Over the years, Lent has sprouted numerous bogus bonuses such as the gustatory delights of crawfish etouffe, crawfish bisque, shrimp creole, barbecued shrimp, baked redfish, grilled oysters, oysters Rockefeller, oyster or shrimp po-boys, stuffed flounder, grilled salmon or a spate of grilled gamefish, and boiled lobster or shrimp or crawfish.

This is but a partial list of mouthwatering seafood preparations which we are labeling bogus bonuses of Lent because they are in no way a deprivation, hardship or penance. Au contraire, they are a specious rationalization of doing penance. Can you imagine being condemned to eating the likes of those dishes all your life?

Who needs the delights of meat delicacies anyway? On second thought, there are some among you who actually do not like seafood, and some of you are allergic to some or all seafoods. Your gustatory misfortune completely invalidates the premise of the penitential eating of seafoods. By the same token, seafood lovers find no penance in either case.

Amid all these peculiarities and paradoxes of Lenten discipline through abstinence and good works, it has come as a mild shock to me that there are some very tasty by-products of Lent. Mind you, these gourmet by-products were not at all intended by me.

Imagine my surprise when I found myself eagerly anticipating the sheer delight of some extremely simple dish as microwaved cauliflower. Since a series of TV news programs were about to begin, I pictured myself curling up with a cauliflower dish.

Reflections on Life

by Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

"What is this mysterious dish?" you ask. Frankly, I try to buy the largest cauliflower. Rip the lower leaves from the bottom. Wash lightly in antibacterial dish detergent, and rinse well. Cut the bottom stem so that the head sits flush in a pyrex bowl. Drizzle extra-virgin olive oil over the cauliflower head, then dust the head generously with dried, granulated garlic mixed with herbs.

With a plate under the pyrex bowl, place it uncovered in a microwave and cook for 10 minutes. At that juncture, you will find the cauliflower to be done about perfectly, though you may seek your own variation in time. Now for that series of TV news programs!

I never thought I would see the day when a simple cauliflower dish would be so tasty and so desirable. But the surprises and wonders did not stop there. In fact, they had just begun to surface. Next came a large triple-clump of broccoli which I had started eyeing.

First, I dipped the huge broccoli florets gently in antibacterial dish detergent, then rinsed them well. Cutting the stems back so that the huge broccoli florets could sit flush on the bottom of a pyrex dish, I drizzled them with extra-virgin olive oil, then dusted them generously with dried, granulated garlic mixed with herbs.

After 7 minutes of microwaving - you may desire a bit less - the aroma beckons you to enjoy with a series of TV news programs or whatever strikes your fancy. Again, I was amazed at how much I came to anticipate and desire this simple dish of broccoli.

A more economical variation of this preparation of broccoli can be worked through the purchase of a 3-pound pre-washed plastic package of broccoli florets. Without washing, enough of these florets can be arranged in a pyrex bowl, oiled, seasoned and microwaved.

It mystified me that I was going after these dishes with as much gusto as I had once gone after a luscious steak grilled in butter and garlic.

Yes, I was having visions of these simple dishes instead of visions of mouthwatering preparations of meats and seafoods.

What on earth was going on inside of me? Were my eight years and near eleven months of consuming only vegetables, fruits and nuts beginning to displace my onetime enjoyment of all sorts of salivating preparations of animal products?

Well, not quite. Even though I have not tasted any meats, seafoods or dairy products in all these years, the smell of good preparations of these is just as seductive, their appearance is just as alluring, and I'm sure their taste is still just as wonderful.

The only explanation I can figure is that an intimate educative process has occurred deep inside of me, specifically in my taste buds, slowly evolving from being hooked on the taste of animal products to the unfettered, liberating taste of things vegetable.

Nor did things culinary stop with the simple preparations of cauliflower and broccoli. One day, as my wandering thoughts turned to the delight of a good, hot tomato soup, I decided to soak some tomatoes in antibacterial dish detergent for a short time, then rinsed them thoroughly prior to juicing them in my Champion juicer.

Using a very deep fire-resistant bowl, I poured in two cups of juice, setting the pulp aside for other things such as homemade vegan pizza. Adding a heaping tablespoon of dried, granulated garlic mixed with herbs, I microwaved it for 7 minutes.

Again, to my gustatory surprise, I found myself kicking back with a large soup cup and enjoying the equivalent of steamy, delicious tomato soup. It is nutritious, of course, it tastes good and it definitely opens up one's sinuses. It does what soups are known to do.

Being the mother of invention, necessity is busy at work during a season of discipline and penance such as Lent. Instead of being permanently locked into the time-worn tastes and habits of building our lives around the consumption of animal products, we are urged by Lent to bend our minds and look into a whole new world of gustatory possibilities.

Thus far, we have explored only the tasty side of animal products versus that of the world of vegetables, fruits and nuts. However, the discussion runs far deeper and wider than taste. Health is ultimately the biggest and most important point of comparison.

While no one disputes the great taste of numerous animal products cuisine, few give any convincing arguments that indulging animal products leads to a healthy outcome.

Lent looms as a perpetual reminder that, although animal products comprise a feast, the wide world of vegetable products levels our sugar, pressure and other health issues.

Scripture Says
By Ed Young
Christian Covenant
Just what is a covenant? It is a binding agreement; a formal contract.
This is what the Lord Jesus made with His church at the Last Supper.
Likewise, He also took the cup after supper, saying "This is cup is the new covenant in my blood which is shed for you" (Luke 22:20).
This new covenant was not just a hand shake or written down and signed by both parties; it was a blood covenant.
Life is in the blood. He gave his life for us at Calvary's Cross. This covenant is still in force today. Not just 2,000 years ago.
Our Heavenly Father and His son are serious to the utmost in having a personal relationship with His followers.
In a covenant, every-

The Trial of Christ
The trial of Jesus Christ was amazing. There were in fact two trials. First, Christ appeared before the Jewish court. But the Jewish trial conducted by the religious leaders was illegal. The hearing before the high priest was conducted at night. This was entirely irregular. Since the desire was to put Jesus to death, the witnesses were required to produce the exact same testimony. No differences or contradictions were allowed. The Jewish court system placed a very high value on life. But the religious leaders were not interested in justice. "The whole Council kept trying to obtain false testimony against Jesus, in order that they might put Him to death" (Matthew 26:59). It was also improper for the high priest to speak during a trial. His opinion would sway the whole court. But the high priest entered directly into this trial to solicit a verdict. Then Jesus was physically abused. "They spat in His face and beat Him with their fists; and others slapped Him" (Matthew 26:67). The whole trial was a terrible miscarriage of justice. The Jewish Council then sent Jesus to the Roman governor. Pilate asked Jesus, "Are You the King of the Jews?" (Matthew 27:11). Jesus answered, "My Kingdom is not of this world" (John 18:36). This alleviated the governor's fears. Pilate knew he was dealing with a purely religious matter. So he pronounced his judgment to the people, "I find no guilt in Him" (John 18:38). Pilate pronounced this same judgment three times. The problem was that Pilate was a coward. Although he knew Jesus was innocent, because the Jewish leaders were inciting a riot, Pilate "delivered Him to them to be crucified" (John 19:16). Here is an example of how mob action perverts justice. It turns our stomachs. And we cry out, "Why?"

Two OLA students nominated for National Scholarship program

Laurie Benvenuti and Therese Sison, seniors at Our Lady Academy and members of OLA's Monsignor Martin Maloney Chapter of the National Honor Society (NHS), have been nominated to compete in the National Honor Society Scholarship sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP).

Announcing the nomination, Sister Jackie Howard, OLA Principal, said two hundred NHS nominees will receive $1,000 college scholarships this year. The winners will be announced this spring.

High school National Honor Society chapters from across the country were eligible to nominate two seniors to compete. Nominees were selected based on their leadership skills, participation in service organizations and clubs; achievements in the arts and sciences; employment experience; and academic record. They also were required to write an essay.

"Students nominated for the NHS scholarship are role models for their peers, not only for their academic achievements, but also for their outstanding accomplishments in the areas of service, leadership, and character," said Rocco Marano, director, NHS.

In recognizing leadership in curricular activities as well as academic performance, the NHS scholarship recognizes the importance of a well-rounded education. Curricular activities are an essential part of the school curriculum.

Laurie Benvenuti

Benvenuti is the daughter of Mike and Mary Ann Benvenuti of Bay St. Louis. She has a 4.0 grade point average and has achieved the Principal's Honor Roll. She attended Rotary Youth Leadership Awards in New Orleans last summer.

Recognized as the Pepsi Student of the Month three times, Benvenuti was named the Pepsi Student of the Year for her class last year. She had perfect attendance in 2001-02 and 2003-04.

Benvenuti is the president of the Class of 2005 and a member of OLA's National Spanish Honor Society. She was treasurer of her junior class and also the National Junior Honor Society treasurer for two years.

A four-year member of the school's yearbook, Tomorrow's Past, she is the 2004-05 editor and also served as business editor last year. She has been a member of the Quiz Bowl

Team for two years.

Benvenuti is a three-year member of OLA's Campus Ministry Organization and has completed forty or more hours of service each year. She is a lifelong member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis, and she served as the treasurer of her church youth group for three years.

Sison is the current president of OLA's Chapter of the National Honor Society and a past president of the National Junior Honor Society. She is an all-A Honor Roll Student and has made the Principal's Honor Roll every year since the 7th grade.

An OLA Student Ambassador, Sison was selected as a senior student representative in OLA's preparation for the Southern Association (SACS) Accreditation.

She was named the Pepsi Student of the Month from her class for four years and the Pepsi Student of the Year in the 7th and 10th grades.

Sison is a two-year member of the Student Ministry/Retreat Team and a three-year member of the Quiz Bowl Team and the Literary Magazine Staff, and a four-year member of Youth Legislature. She was named an Outstanding Senator, an Outstanding Representative, and had a proposed bill signed.

In athletics, Sison lettered in cross country and track and was a member of the State All-Star Running Team in the 8th grade. She co-founded the Crescent Running Club at OLA.

In her junior year, Sison attended Mississippi Governor's School, a three-week residential program for top students in the state, and received a $500 College Scholarship Award. As a sophomore, she participated in the Notre Dame Vision Program. In her freshman year, she was selected from the community for the Youth Leadership Gulf Coast*Class of 2002 and was also a school representative in the Hancock County Tolerance Rally.

Sison has taken ballet for ten years and piano lessons for twelve years and qualified for state piano competitions. The recipient of academic awards (highest average) in English, Math, Science, History, Spanish, and Religious Studies over the last three years, Sison was listed in Who's Who Among American Students.

Daughter of Gustave and Mary Ann Sison of Long Beach, Sison is an active member of St. Thomas Catholic Church. She is a member of Life Teen, an altar server, a liturgical reader, and a Eucharist Minister. She has volunteered for various community service functions.

The National Honor Society and the National Junior Honor Society are the nation's premier organizations recognizing outstanding middle level and high school students who demonstrate excellence in the areas of scholarship, leadership, service, and character.

Black Crowes to perform at the Grand

THE SEA COAST ECHO Grand Casino, Gulfport proudly presents "An Evening with the Black Crowes" on Saturday, April 23 at 8 p.m. in the Grand Event Center.

After announcing a hiatus in 2002, Southern rockers The Black Crowes take to the stage for their first shows since October 2001. The line-up will consist of Chris Robinson (vocals), Rich Robinson (guitars), Marc Ford (guitars), Eddie Hawrysch (keyboards), Sven Pipien (bass) and Bill Dobrow (drums).

Formed by the Robinson brothers in 1984, the Georgia band released their debut album, Shake Your Money Maker, in 1990. "Jealous Again" was the first single; however it was the band's cover of Otis Redding's "Hard to Handle" that made the group a multi-platinum success, when the song made the top 40 chart. The ballad "She Talks to Angels" followed, becoming the band's second top 40 song.

Several albums later, the band released, in mid-2000, A Tribute to a Work in Progress: Greatest Hits 1990-2000, a 16-track best of compilation album, featuring "Remedy" and "Twice as Hard."

Tickets go on sale on Wednesday, March 23 at the Grand Casino Box Office and through Ticketmaster. Tickets are $29.95, $34.95 and $39.95. With paid ticket stub, guests over 21 can redeem ticket stub at the Connection Center for $5 in free slot play. Guests must be Connection Club member. Offer valid through midnight on April 24.

Melissa Manchester

Manchester casts a spell on Bay Magic audiences

Grammy award winner, Melissa Manchester will dazzle Casino Magic Bay St. Louis audiences with her soft rock sound on May 6th & 7th at 9 p.m. Manchester is known for smash hits like: "Midnight Blue," "Don't Cry Out Loud," "Through the Eyes of Love," and "You Should Hear How She Talks About You." Tickets for Manchester's performances start at $14.95 and are available through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through Ticketmaster.com.

Grammy Award-winning artist Melissa Manchester was born in New York where her father was a bassoonist for the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

After graduating from the High School of the Performing Arts (where she studied acting), Manchester entered New York University and enrolled in a songwriting class taught by Paul Simon. She landed a staff writing job at Chappell Music and performed as a solo singer/pianist in the clubs of Greenwich Village and Manhattan's Upper West Side, where she met Bette Midler.

As a back-up singer for Bette, she fulfilled her childhood fantasy of playing New York's Carnegie Hall. Six months later, she had a recording contract, and shortly thereafter was headlining Carnegie Hall and performing for sold-out audiences.

Manchester's albums have served to establish her as one of the most compelling singer/songwriters in contemporary music. Her debut albums positioned her as a dynamic new talent, and her album "Melissa" launched the smash hit single "Midnight Blue."

"Lovers After All" (from her "For the Working Girl" LP), the sensual ballad that she wrote and performed as a duet with Peabo Bryson, was a hit on both the Pop and R&B charts. Manchester and Kenny Loggins also co-wrote "Whenever I Call You Friend," which has become a radio classic.

Manchester was nominated for Grammy Awards in 1978 and 1979 and received a Grammy in 1982 for Best Female Vocalist.

Melissa Manchester has combined her acting and singing talents in starring roles in Andrew Lloyd Webber's "Song and Dance," and "Music of the Night," and in a recurring role in the hit television series "Blossom." She also worked again with Bette Midler, co-starring in the film "For the Boys," wrote the musical "I Sent a Letter To My Love," and in March of 1999, when she co-starred with Kelsey Grammer, in Stephen Sondheim's acclaimed musical "Sweeney."

Sunday

6:45 a.m. on TBS

Movie: Matilda

In Stephen King's take on the unhappy telekinetic girl's story, a whole town burned down. Children's author Roald Dahl created a kinder, gentler version, with a pluckier heroine who uses her powers only on those who need a lesson. Mara Wilson plays young Matilda, but Danny DeVito, Rhea Perlman and Pam Ferris steal the show as her crude, neglectful parents and the school principal from hell. Embeth Davidtz also stars.

Monday

8 p.m. on USA

Movie: Raiders of the Lost Ark

In the snake-riddled, whip-cracking 1981 movie that started the "Indiana Jones" trilogy, Harrison Ford plays the romancing, swashbuckling hero who fights the Nazis in an attempt to procure the most important archaeological find in all of history: the Ark of the Covenant. Karen Allen co-stars as the alcohol-swilling love interest.

Wednesday

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: A Little Princess

Based on a novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett ("The Secret Garden"), this critically acclaimed 1995 film will hopefully garner a wider audience than the select few who previously enjoyed it in theaters. Liesel Matthews stars as Sara Crewe, a 10-year-old whose fanciful imagination captivates her fellow classmates at an oppressive girls school in 1914 New York. Eleanor Bron co-stars as Miss Minchin, the school's harsh headmistress.

Thursday

9 a.m. on HALL

Little House on the Prairie

Usually at the top of her class, Mary (Melissa Sue Anderson) worries Charles (Michael Landon) when she starts failing in school. They discover Mary's eyesight isn't good and purchase glasses for her to wear. Happy she can see, Mary quickly becomes self-conscious from her classmates' teasing. Alison Arngrim, Charlotte Stewart and Ford Rainey co-star in "Four Eyes."

8 p.m. and NICK

Full House

The gang, including the ever-annoying Kimmy (Andrea Barber), heads to Walt Disney World in Part 1 of "The House Meets the Mouse." D.J. (Candace Cameron) pines over Steve (Scott Weinger), Jesse and Becky (John Stamos, Lori Loughlin) try to celebrate their anniversary, and Michelle (Mary-Kate and Ashley Olsen) is crowned "princess for the day" by Aladdin. Part 2 immediately follows.

Saturday

3 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Curly Sue

The heartwarming 1991 romantic comedy, written and directed by John Hughes, stars James Belushi as a down-and-out drifter who travels with a pint-sized, cute-as-a-button companion (Alisan Porter). After the two pull a con on a tough Chicago attorney (Kelly Lynch) to get money for food, the attorney is surprised to find herself drawn to the pair. John Getz and Fred Dalton Thompson also star.

TV Trivia

Burt Reynolds ("The Cannonball Run") received a football scholarship to Florida State University, but an accident prevented a career in sports.

Jamie Farr ("A Month of Sundays") was born Jameel Farrah and is of Lebanese descent. He studied acting at the Pasadena Playhouse.

Peter Fonda ("Easy Rider") enrolled as a University of Omaha sophomore at the age of 17 without having finished high school.

Adrienne Barbeau ("Carnivale") entertained military troops at age 19 as part of the San Jose Light Opera.

Sammy Davis Jr. ("Ocean's Eleven") was called "Silent Sam, the Dancing Midget" as part of his father and uncle's vaudeville act.

King of the Hill

Frustrated at not having a hand in fixing up the yard, Peggy (voice of Kathy Najimy) buys a garden gnome and installs it out front. Hank (voice of Mike Judge) hates the thing, and when Bobby (voice of Pamela Segall) accidentally shoots its ear off, he has an excuse to dispose of it. Peggy thinks her treasure has been gnome-napped and calls the cops in "Yard She Blows."

6 p.m. and FAM

Movie: I Do, They Don't

Imagine "The Brady Bunch." If Mike and Carol had gone for a spur-of-the-moment Las Vegas wedding, here's the story of a lovely lady and a man named Barber (spouses Josie Bissett and Rob Estes), who wed on a whim in Sin City and must return home to eight kids who aren't too thrilled about suddenly forming a family. Lyndsy Fonseca ("The Young and the Restless") also stars in this new comedy.

7 p.m. on BRAV

Inside the Actors Studio

Times have changed, but George Carlin still can't get away with uttering all seven of his famous "Words You Can't Say on TV" as he con-verses with host James Lipton. The comedian has done some acting — dating back to his role as a carhop in the 1968 Doris Day movie "With Six You Get Eggroll" — and even had his own sitcom, but he mostly talks about the subject he knows best: the art of performing comedy onstage.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Spring Break Shark Attack

School's out for spring, and thousands of college students descend on Florida for sun, fun and decompression. This year, though, there's another crowd hanging around the beach: killer sharks. Kathy Baker ("Picket Fences") and Bryan Brown ("The Thirde Bird") lead the cast of this new thriller, which offers a generous serving of eye candy — babes in bikinis and hunks in trunks — along with "Jaws" moments.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

The murder of a transplant recipient has Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) investigating the donor, who made a habit of giving away money and, when feasible, his organs. They suspect he wanted some control over the lives of those he helped. Medical evidence, however, indicates that he had an associate with a violent streak and a grudge. Jamey Sheridan also stars in the new episode "Ex Stasis."

8 p.m. and DSC

Genoble Khan:

Rise of the Conqueror

His name has become synonymous with brutality and barbarism, but Genghis Khan had one of the great military minds of all time. This new hourlong special chronicles the life and career of the 13th-century Mongol conqueror, whose empire spanned two continents and whose military tactics were emulated by armies for centuries after his death.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Crossing Jordan

Jordan (Jill Hennessy) scrambles to find her father, Max (guest star Ken Howard), when the mobster he helped send to prison comes out looking for revenge. When she locates him, Max reveals the real reason for the long-standing feud and explains that it's up to him to stop the killer. A computer glitch leaves Nigel and Bug (Steve Valentine, Ravi Kapoor) with 300 unidentified bodies in the new episode "It Happened One Night."

Listen Up

Megan (Daniella Monet) is playing Gretel in a community theater production in the new episode "Waiting for Kleinman." She's thrilled to have the part but not very happy about the casting of Tony (Jason Alexander) as Hansel.
The director chose him in hopes of using his celebrity status to attract a bigger audience. But when Tony tries to take over the show, the director and everyone else involved are with Megan: He's got to go.

7:30 p.m. on 54-UPN

The shop's staff prefers Tiffany's (Shannon Elizabeth)-laid-back style of management to Kevin's (Marques Houston) stricter methods, so he steps down as co-manager. Tiffany soon realizes she needs to be more of a discipli-narian when the employees start taking advantage of her, so she seeks Kevin's help. Shondrel-la Avery and Rashawn Nall also star in

"Why Can't We Be Friends?"

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Las Vegas

Danny and Mike (Josh Duhamel,
James Lesure)
are distracted from their youth football team's upcoming championship game by the disappearance of one player's father, an amateur inventor, in "Montecito Lancers." Sam (Vanessa Marcil) becomes enmeshed in an "All About Eve"-like scenario when she mentors a casino owner's (guest star James McDaniel, "NYPD Blue") girlfriend.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS

CSI: Miami

Skateboarding icon Tony Hawk guest stars as — surprise! — a skateboarder who also tests video games in the new episode "Game Over." He turns up dead on the half-pipe where he was doing his moves in front of a motion-capture device used to produce game images.
The device has recorded the killing but not the person responsible, so Horatio (David Caruso) and his team immerse themselves in the world of video-game production in search of clues.

The 36th Annual NAACP Image Awards
Oprah Winfrey's induction into the NAACP Image Awards Hall of Fame is a highlight of this year's gala honoring black achievers in entertainment and books. UPN is the nomination leader, with 14 for its TV shows and stars. In music, Usher is the man to beat; in fact, he's competing with himself in the music video category. The Ray Charles biopic "Ray" is up for seven awards, while the real Charles was nominated for his compact disc "Genius Loves Company."

Movie: O Brother, Where Art Thou?

Made by siblings Joel and Ethan Coen ("Fargo"), this 2000 comedy loosely was inspired by Homer's classic "The Odyssey." It puts three escaped convicts (George Clooney, John Turturro, Tim Blake Nelson) on the run from pursuers and toward considerable wealth. They seek a hidden treasure, but many complications arise. The bluegrass soundtrack, honored by the Country Music Association Awards, spawned a concert tour.

Kojak

Memo to Ving Rhames: Stepping into a role Telly Savalas owned for 16 years carries a lot of baggage, so it may take some time before everybody loves ya, baby. But if anyone can fill Telly's shoes, it's the talented star of "Don King: Only in America." In the pilot of this update on the hit detective series, Kojak is on the trail of a killer whose favorite targets are prostitutes with children. Chazz Palminteri also stars.

In the new episode "Baby Boom," Kibbe and Gaffney (Bebe Neuwirth, Amy Carlson) clash with the judge (guest star Asif Mandvi) who is presiding over the case of a nanny (guest star Elizabeth Moss) accused of killing her infant charge. He seems to have a personal grudge against the prosecutors, which is hurting their case. Gaffney wants Kibbe to step down in an effort to calm him down, but she won't budge.

Sea Coast Echo

In Focus

No matter who wins in the competitive categories, Prince is one of the performers certain to take the stage at the 36th Annual NAACP Image Awards, since he'll receive the Vanguard Award for helping create social and racial awareness. Fox televises the event Friday, March 25.

Orphan Winfrey also will be a special honoree, inducted into the NAACP Image Awards Hall of Fame. As for those competing for accolades, it's likely Jamie Foxx will continue his winning streak for "Ray."

When former "Charlie's Angels" icon Farrah Fawcett meets the world of unscripted television, the result is the TV Land series "Chasing Farrah," which premieres Wednesday, March 23.

The show follows the actress through her everyday life ... although in her case, "everyday" can translate into a trip to the U.S. Open or a party with the equally glamorous Alana Stewart. The results aren't necessarily meant to be funny, but in the end, Farrah is Farrah.

6 p.m. on HALL

Movie: In the Beginning...

Memorable moments from the books of Genesis and Exodus—from the Creation to the issuing of the Ten Commandments and the death of Moses—are brought to life in this 2000 two-part, airing here in its entirety, by an impressive cast and special effects to match. Oscar winner Martin Landau plays Abraham, with Jacqueline Bisset as Sarah and Bill Campbell as Moses. Geraldine Chaplin, Eddie Cibrian and Diana Rigg also star.

7 p.m. on 25-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Little House on the Prairie

Forget Michael and the Melissas for now. This new five-part series is not a remake of the 1970s TV show but a by-the-book adaptation of Laura Ingalls Wilder's childhood memoir. In the two-hour opener, "Night One," Charles Ingalls (Cameron Bancroft) and his family make the perilous trek from their old home in Wisconsin to a new one in the Kansas territory. Erin Cottrell, Kyle Chavarria and Danielle Ryan Chuchran also star.

7 p.m. on TBS

Movie: Sister Act 2: Back in the Habit

Whoopi Goldberg reprises her role as lounge singer Deloris in this family-oriented sequel. This time the nuns are trying to convert a gang of inner-city delinquents into a gospel choir. Kathy Najimy again steals every scene she appears in, and Maggie Smith, the great British character actress, also reprises her role as Mother Superior. The rousing gospel music scenes and the clever end credits are particularly enjoyable.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Taking Lives

Angelina Jolie stars in this 2004 thriller as an FBI profiler summoned to Montreal to help track down a serial killer who assumes the identities of his victims. Kiefer Sutherland also stars, with Gena Rowlands as the mother of a possible victim and Ethan Hawke as an art dealer who might be the killer's next target.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Desperate Housewives

Ryan O'Neal guest stars in "Your Fault" as Lynette's (Felicity Huffman) father-in-law, whose visit leads her to discover a family secret. A request from John's (Jesse Metcalfe) parents (Kathryn Harrold, Mark Harelik) shocks Gabrielle (Eva Longoria). Susan (Teri Hatcher) worries as things heat up between Julie and Zach (Andrea Bowen, Cody Kasch), while Rex (Steven Culp) tries to rekindle the flame with Bree (Marcia Cross).

10 p.m. on 25-FOX

Mad TV

Danny Masterson ("That '70s Show") and his brother Chris ("Malcolm in the Middle") guest star, playing, among other things, a pair of lawyers who take badgering the witness to extremes. Ron Pederson and Frank Caliendo play actors Dave Foley and William Shatner in a parody of "Celebrity Poker Showdown"—but instead of poker, the stars are playing the drinking game "quarters." Ike Barinholtz and Aries Spears also star.
